Under “one farmer one” tree campaign we have planted 21750 saplings in the field areas of Amreli and Gir Somnath districts. Also in the Gondal cluster, tree planting was completed in Derdi village, where approximately 3,200 saplings were planted across 2 hectares. In the IADLE project 86 coconut saplings were distributed and planted. Our initiative aims to restore and enhance the local ecosystem. The newly planted trees will help stabilize the soil and reduce erosion. Over time, the improved greenery will support increased biodiversity.
